

Garden Waste Journey

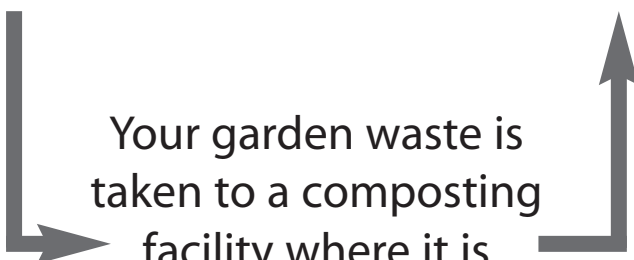

Sending less garden waste to landfill reduces the amount of methane produced; a harmful greenhouse gas.

Place your garden waste into your brown bin or take it to your local Recycling Centre.

After the natural composting process, your garden waste is then used as a soil improver and in landscaping.

Your garden waste is taken to a composting facility where it is chipped and laid out in windrows.

